BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Edward Coffin Jones was born on Nantucket, Mass., in 1805. As a young boy he moved to New Bedford, Mass., and in 1824 he became a clerk for Capt. Elisha Dunbar (1785-1839). By 1827, Jones had become a partner in the ship chandlery and whaling industry and remained in business after Dunbar's death in 1839. Jones was part owner and agent for numerous whaling vessels including the ship CONGRESS, bark ELISHA DUNBAR, ship EMMA C. JONES, ship GOVERNOR TROUP, ship MILO, etc. Thomas Bennett, Jr. (1820-1898) became clerk for Jones prior to becoming a successful businessman with the Wamsutta Mills.

Jones first married Louisa Gibbs in 1835, and she died in 1839. He then married Emma Chambers Nye (1823-1852) in 1844, by whom he had four children. She was born and raised on the island of St. Michael in the Azores and moved to the United States upon her mother's marriage to Thomas Nye, Jr. (1804-1882). She resided in Fairhaven with her parents and attended school in Boston. Three of the children from Emma's marriage survived to maturity. Emma Chambers Jones (1847-1920) was physically frail and spent most of her life under doctor's care in Litchfield, Conn., and New York City, N.Y. Amelia Hickling Jones (1849-1935) remained in New Bedford and was involved in civic concerns. She eventually sponsored a camp and hospital for tubercular children at Sol-E-Mar, her property in So. Dartmouth, Mass. Sarah Coffin Jones (1852-1891) married John Malcolm Forbes (1847-1904) of Milton, Mass., by whom she had eight children. Edward Coffin Jones married a third time in 1872, to Mary Coffin Luce (1840-1917). He died in 1880.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

Dominating this collection are personal papers and business records of Edward Coffin Jones, 1824-1880. His papers consist of correspondence, financial records, ships' papers, plans and plats and miscellaneous papers. His correspondence, 1824-1870, is primarily business related discussing prices and availability of oil, sales of vessels, reports from various whaling vessels, reports of activities of his vessels, banking activities in New Bedford and activities during the Civil War of a New Bedford military company. Correspondents include Elisha Dunbar, Thomas Bennett, Jr., captains of whaling vessels and C. F. Winslow, U.S. Consul at Paita.

There is also personal correspondence from Susan Gelston (1781-1866), Jones' aunt, regarding family and household matters. Aunt Susan ran Jones' household during the two periods when he was a widower.

The financial records, 1825-1871, contain accounts, bills and receipts and lists of stock certificates. The accounts include real estate transactions, general merchandise and household accounts especially for domestic help and their wages.

Ships' papers, 1831-1866, include outfitting books, bill of sale, correspondence and a bond for caring for a foreigner for the ship CONGRESS, ship EUROPA, ship GOVERNOR TROUP and ship IRIS. There are also plans for the Jones house on County Street, New Bedford, 1851 and 1856 and a plat for land at Sol-E-Mar in So. Dartmouth, ca. 1845.

The miscellaneous papers, ca. 1842-1880, include accounts for furnishing house, addresses of friends and relatives, pew plan, dog licenses, lists of ships owned, list of bequests and estate records.

The remainder of the collection is dominated by diaries and correspondence of women members of the Jones family written between 1843 and 1935. Papers for Jones' second wife, Emma Chambers Nye Jones, consist of personal correspondence and an account book concerning domestic help and their wages, 1843-1854.

Diaries of Emma Chambers Jones, 1876-1909, contain information about her health, living arrangements and companions at Litchfield, Conn., and at New York City, N.Y., where she lived in an apartment house; friendship with New Bedford, Mass., artist, Robert Swain Gifford (1840-1905) and his family; social and cultural activities in New York City; and her travels to a summer residence in Dublin, N.H. and to Europe. Her correspondence consists of letters from family members, ca. 1857-1858. Also included in her papers are charades, 1856-1875, which she and her sister, Amelia, performed for friends and a presentation volume of verses, 1871.

Diaries for Amelia Hickling Jones, 1872-1935, describe family activities; visits to Milton and Naushon, Mass., and to her summer residence in Dublin, N.H.; and meetings at and visits to Sol-E-Mar in So. Dartmouth. Her correspondence, 1859-1928, consists of letters from a cousin and a friend. Also included in her papers are a memoir of Edward Coffin Jones, her father, written by Amelia in 1899; a play entitled HOPE & HORROR, ca. 1870; and a memoranda volume of household inventories and expenses, 1911-1929.

Papers for Sarah Coffin Jones Forbes consist of correspondence, 1872-1891, mainly addressed to her sister-in-law, Alice Hathaway Forbes Cary (1838-1917). These letters describe family events at New Bedford and Milton; travel by railroad to Florida and the West; regattas and other summer events at Naushon, Mass.; and travel to England, Scotland and France.

Also represented by materials in this collection are various Jones family relatives by marriage. Papers for Reuben Jones (1776-1818), Edward's father, consist of correspondence, a deed and an estate record, 1811-1823. The correspondence is a letter to his brother, Daniel, regarding the death of their father, 1812.

Amelia Clementina Hickling Chambers Nye (1796-1872), mother of Emma Chambers Nye Jones, papers consist of personal correspondence and legal documents, 1822-ca. 1885. Her correspondence, 1822-1848, includes letters to her stepdaughter Virginia Chambers and her husband Thomas Nye, Jr. written while she was in St. Michael, Azores. Also included are letters to her brother Thomas Hickling, Jr., in the Azores and her daughter Emma at school in Cambridge, Mass. Papers for her husband, Thomas Nye, Jr., (1804-1882), are personal correspondence, 1830-1831, to his wife and family from foreign ports.

Papers for Mary Ann Hickling Ivens (1800-1888), sister to Amelia, contain a memoranda volume concerning birthdays, deaths, anniversaries, and events of 1870, compiled between 1867 and 1870 and correspondence, 1827, to her sister-in-law, Miss Nye.

Papers for Eliza Williams Nye Hathaway Dana (1830-1923), daughter of Thomas and Amelia Nye, Jr., contain a journal regarding her trip to the Azores, 1847, correspondence, 1906 and a marriage certificate, 1854. Papers for her daughter, Grace Dana (1866-1956), consist of correspondence, 1906, 1935, 1938. The Amelia Forbes Emerson (1888-1979), papers consist of correspondence, 1935, regarding the death of Amelia Hickling Jones.

This collection concludes with transcripts of original family documents, 1744-1937, compiled between ca. 1950-1960 and genealogical material compiled in ca. 1897, ca. 1920-1960. Several of the former items relate to Thomas Hickling (1745-1834) and concern his business transactions at the Azores, 1774-1820, and his trip to England and France, 1796. His son, Thomas Hickling, Jr., (1782-1875), is represented by a letter, 1848, describing his business ventures. There is also a transcript of a travel journal by Caroline Pomeroy (b. 1795), relating to her trip to St. Michael, Azores in 1824.

The genealogical materials concern members of the inter-related Coffin, Cook, Forbes, Hathaway, Hickling, Jones, Nye, Starbuck and Swain families who lived between 1577-1927, chiefly at Nantucket and New Bedford.

The miscellaneous papers include a will for Thaddeus Swain, 1835; a poem, ca. 1835; copy of the "records of Friends Academy" between 1817 and 1820 copied in ca. 1870 and newspaper clippings, 1867-1950 relating to whaling.

A published work which may serve as a guide to the persons represented in this collection is LETTERS OF SARAH JONES FORBES ed. by Henry S. and Hildegard B. Forbes (1960).
